SKYPE COURSE

Students can study Japanese language with an original program and a private tutor. The format of the original program will depend on each student's current language ability and study background, so please contact us in advance if you are interested in this method and we will create a customized program for you. All study materials (exercise sheets) will be provided to you online.

TEXT COURSE

In the Japanese Language Self-study Course we will provide you with exercise sheets only, and you will do the study by yourself. We have a variety of exercise papers to offer, depending on each student's current language ability and study background. Please contact us in advance so we can ensure the quality and effectiveness of the study materials. Although students study by themselves, they can also ask for additional instructions from a skilled instructor.

- all courses consist of private lessons
- students study according to their individual needs and abilities
- students can study anytime, anyplace
- all classes are 101, so each student receives custom-made lessons
- all language levels are available
